

Imagine me a butterfly...

spreading wings out wide,
Two wings are in the front, two more are on the side.
I didn't always look this way, I started as an egg,
I grew into a caterpillar, I had sixteen legs.

Metamorphosis is what they call my change,
To turn into a butterfly takes up to 15 days.
Butterflies are free to fly, all over we are found.
When I meet up with my friends, we'll play and hang around.

My lesson being a butterfly—life doesn't stay the same.
Be happy just the way you are, no matter
how you change.
I grew wings and changed into a beautiful new me,
You too will change a lot, just you wait and see.
