

Imagine me a Cheshire Cat...

I'm sure you've heard my name.

The one that's in the story, I want to be the same.

The one that turns invisible, all you see is grin.

It comes in very handy—you can't tell where I've been.

The first thing I would do, if could not be seen,

Is sneak into an ice cream shop, eat everything I see.

Maybe have a party with Mad Hatter and a hare,

They'd only see my silly grin, of me they're not aware.

I know that it's just dreaming, to be a Cheshire Cat.

But if you wish for something hard enough, it may come true at that.

If I was a Cheshire Cat, a dream I'd like to see,

Never giving up my dreams—who wants to be me?
