

Imagine me an elephant ...

as big as a house,
Not scared of anything, well, maybe a mouse.
My ears are like fans, for chasing away flies.
To see I'm very smart, just look into my eyes.

I have a long nose and ears that look like wings,
I sound like a trumpet, that's how I sing.
When I want to sleep, I just stand up and nap,
I never tip over. Bet you can't do that.

The thing that I do best of all is never to forget,
I'd remember your face, if we'd only once met.
My greatest treasures are cherished memories,
That's your treasure too. Who wants to be me?
