

Imagine me a turtle... floating in the sea,
A giant, green sea turtle—life would be a breeze.
My friends are the fishes, dolphins, sharks and whales,
I like to eat sea grass, sometimes a tasty snail.

What makes me very special is the shell upon my back,
When I get super tired, I go in and take a nap.
I'll crawl up on the sand, and warm up in the sun.
When I'm done with napping, I'll go and have more fun.

My ocean home is troubled, it's filling up with junk
Unless I'm really careful, I get caught up in gunk.
You can help to keep me safe; pick up all the junk you see,
Playing with my friends—who wants to be me?
